We love what we do

Our mission is to provide personal support and consultation to our customers regarding their voucher and ticket management, during, and in particular after successful project implementation. Working with e-guma on a daily basis should bring as much joy to you as it does to us.

We are a colourful team of curious, creative people, who support one another in the goal of further developing e-guma on a daily basis. We work together on a system in which we believe. And for this reason, we love what we do.

Personal Project Manager
